

TAD LINDNER

1800 Vote, Split Tickets As Lindner, Skelly Win

By GIL GIMBLE

• GOVERNOR TOM DEWEY today has nothing on John Graves, two-time Student Council presidential candidate who lost last week to Tad Lindner.

Lindner, running on the United Colonial slate, split the ticket with Jack Skelly, the Students' Alliance vice-presidential candidate.

Students voted "yes" on a referendum creating a new Council post, the Student Union Board chairmanship. Tom Mutchler, of the United Colonial party, was elected to the post. The Committee on Student Life must validate the 1068 to 242 approval before the post will be created. Mutchler as yet does not have an office.

Mitchell Reigns Over May Day; Awards, Appointments Announced As Venezky Heads Mortar Board

• LYNN MITCHELL, Kappa Alpha Theta, was crowned University May Queen during the first annual May Day Honor Court as Mortar Board tapped six women Friday in Lisner Auditorium.

Miss Mitchell was selected as the "most outstanding senior woman in activities" by the vote of University women students. She was crowned by Charles Crichton, retiring Student Council president.

In her court of 15 students were the runners-up for the title, Gloria Binzel, Pi Beta Phi; Marie Gottscho, Alpha Delta Pi; and Betty Talley, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Edith Venezky was tapped president of Mortar Board, senior women's honorary. Others tapped were: Lee Harrison, vice-president; Anne Sheppard, secretary; Diane Farrell, treasurer; Janet Wildman, historian, and Ruth Dunlap.

Yellow roses and black gowns were presented to new members by the outgoing members of Mortar Board.

Individual awards were given to the students who were outstanding in scholarship and activities. The Alpha Delta Pi prize to the woman member of the junior class with the most outstanding record in scholarship, extra curricular activities, and service to the University was awarded to Edith Venezky.

Dietrich, Yearbook Queen, Honored At All-U Capers

• THE ANNUAL CAMPUS Celebrity Capers, an All-University Spring Semi-Formal sponsored by the Newman Club, looked like a giveaway program last Saturday night, as awards and presentations were heaped on various notables in the crowd.

Guests and paid customers danced in the Burgundy Room of the Wardman Park Hotel while Jack Morton and his Orchestra Third Man Themed faintly in the background.

Halfway through the evening, Jack Skelly, M. C. and president of the Newman Club, introduced the celebrities; and Miss Virginia Kirkbride, director of women's activities, presented them with certificates of merit for outstanding contribution to the University in the past year.

Highlighting the program was the announcing of the Cherry Tree Queen, Diane Dietrich, Pi Beta Phi. Runners-up were Mickey McGriff, Delta Zeta; Margaret Fritsche, Kappa Alpha Theta; and Jean Rhodes, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Other celebrities honored were Ralph Louk, this year's homecoming director; Millie McDowell, Mortar Board president; Ed Hayes, president of the Religious Council; Charlie Crichton, Student Council president; Tom Pence, Modern Dance Groups; John Ford, of Hatchet fame; Al DuGoff, most valuable player.

Also, John Moffat, Southern Conference All Star Team; Sylvia Srnka and Louise Odineal, outstanding in student activities; Lou Leonard Grant and Lois Lord, outstanding in student activities; Lou Alexiou and Jody Hastings represented the typical "Martha and George"; and the entire Student Council.

Last Hatchet

• THIS will be the last issue of The Hatchet for the school year. The Summer School Record is printed twice during the summer session.

Grad Class Of 1700 Gets Degrees In Yard

• THE LARGEST graduating class in the history of the University, approximately 1700 students, will receive degrees at Commencement exercises May 31.

The graduation exercises are to be held in the Yard for the second successive year. In the event of several days' rain, preventing the use of the grounds, exercises will be held in Constitution Hall.

If it rains around 5 or 6 p. m. on the day of graduation, the graduates will receive their degrees in Lisner Auditorium.

Dean Kayser, University marshal, says the outdoor exercises will be an improvement over last year's. This graduating class is larger than the entire enrollment of the school when Dean Kayser was a student at the University, he commented.

The Baccalaureate Service for the senior class will be held May 28 at the Washington Cathedral at 7:45 p. m. No tickets are needed for admittance.

Caps and gowns are to be worn to the service. A detailed letter will be received from the Registrar stating where and when they may be picked up.

Music for the service will be by the Glee Club and the sermon by a University alumnus.

On May 29, President and Mrs. Cloyd H. Marvin will give a reception for all members of the graduating class in the Chinese Room of the Mayflower Hotel.

Dancing will be in the Main Ballroom to music by Sidney from 8:30 to 11 p. m. Parents and dates of graduates are also invited to the reception.

Each graduate will receive four tickets, four invitations, ten announcements, and two tickets for Constitution Hall, plus a ticket for himself.

Library Continues 1c Charge Despite AUBIS Ink Donation

By SCRIPTO PARKER

Asst. Hatchet Writing Fluid Editor

• THE CAUSE of free ink suffered a serious setback last week at the University Library. Although the AUBIS—All-U Benevolent Ink Society—has donated two gallons of ink to the Library to be dispensed to dry-fountain-penned students, the Library is continuing its traditional policy of charging one cent a fill.

The desk was still levying the fine for a jigger of Skripas late as last Friday, when Nancy McCoach, AUBIS' 67th vice-president, ran out of ink and got a one-cent refill.

Resentment grew among the 71 vice-presidents of the AUBIS over the cool reception their gift has received from the Library officials.

Typical of their comments was that of Buddy Stein, 34th vice-president, who cried, "It ain't fair!"

John Russell Mason, University librarian, curator of art, and University organist told The Hatchet that the removal of the one-cent levy is up to the president of the University and to the appropriate committee of the Board of Trustees, since they had approved the charge several years ago.

The AUBIS is still hopeful that the Library will reverse its opinion and bring back free ink to the campus. Reliable sources indicated that the Administration would probably make the change.

Under The Axe

• EACH YEAR, in the last issue of The Hatchet, the Editors publish their "swan song." Sometimes a capsule summary of the school year's events, sometimes a glance at what the future may bring to the University, sometimes a combination of both—it is meant as a media for the final impressions and expressions of the outgoing Board. This, then, is 1949-50—Under The Axe.

THE UNIVERSITY

It was a pleasant surprise to find that the 1000-2000 students who have always comprised the nucleus for campus activity and spirit actually represent a good percentage of the full-time day students registered at the University, according to the latest figures. So when Lisner Auditorium is filled, it means over half the 2900 campus group has turned out, not just a mere 10% of the total enrollment.

The University remains a city school, however. And that, we think, is as it should be. Lacking some of the advantages of an ivy-covered, cloistered college, it more than offsets these by continuing as a realistic blend of heterogeneous groups, varying in a multitude of ways. It holds its head high in academics; it offers a balanced education to people who otherwise could not take advantage of university study; it fosters a variety of activities for those who wish to take part in them.

With its good points and its faults, it remains a school we're proud to call our alma mater.

ADMISSIONS

Probably the most discussed question of the year was that of the University's admissions policy, and our criticism of it. Our conviction will always be the same on the question of civil rights. Our belief that a change in the admissions policy is, and should be, inevitable has been reinforced by the support of many students, faculty members, alumni, and administrative officials, and by the information that steps are being taken "toward the near-future solution" of the problem. Throughout all the discussions on the subject the remark that gives us the greatest satisfaction is the one students have made to us on many occasions: "Don't know whether you guys are right or wrong, but we've thought about the problem more than ever before after reading your editorials."

ACTIVITIES

Initiation fees in honorary organizations have soared to such an extent that they reach $25.00 in some instances. Granted that the money involved is not to be compared with the distinction bestowed by these groups, but . . . !

The past semester has witnessed some commendable attempts at events which may become University traditions. The All-U Follies, the Religion in Life Week program, and the May Day Honor Court were good examples of such relatively new adventures. The Honor Court last Friday points up the need for better planning (and better MC-ing than this year's miserable performance) in such programs. But the trend is an encouraging one.

The Council of Vice-presidents met with too little response this year, despite the leadership of Len Kirsten, one of the real spark-plugs on campus. The Veeps could serve as a useful advisory board; all next year's vice-presidents please note!

With disappointment we heard of the cancellation of the Junior-Senior Prom, "for fear of financial loss." The fact remains that with proper planning and pushing by the officers, the prom, like all those before, was bound to be a success. It seems that the classes and their officers are about half-way along on the road to proving their use as organized groups. With our fingers crossed we hope they make it, but please, no more "sucker schemes," proposed by private insurance salesmen as "class gifts."

Boosters has undergone a series of shake-ups. Whether it once again takes its place as a real pep organization depends on the ability of the new legislative council in carrying out the new constitution.

So ISA has folded. It has been termed, jokingly, "an organization of students organized against the organization of students into an organization," but we hope the independents who want and need an organization will get back "on the ball." An active ISA would be the University's gain.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

If we called this year's Council "erratic," a lot of people would misunderstand, so we won't. It has received its share of criticism from all sources this year. But nevertheless, making up for the inactivity of the other members, five Council officers diligently pushed student government up to full throttle. In our opinion they reached a new high for Council activity in recent years. Considering the limitations placed on the possibilities for real student self-government at the University, this group of workers has set a new standard, which the new Council will have to "go some" to equal or surpass. In other words, this year's Council has been an aggressive one. When it has done a good job, or when one of its officers has perfected a project in line of duty, the result has been tops. When the Council or its members have gone off on the wrong track, or fallen down, it has been with equal gusto. We'd a lot rather see that kind of positive action than watch ten Council men sit on their collective butts all year, for it is only through honest mistakes that experience is gained.

MISCELLANEOUS MEMORIES

The infamous "DZ Case" and the Sherlocks up at the Third Precinct . . . the troubles of the Union in its infancy, including the cafeteria shake-up . . . the ever-changing activities setup, and Miss Lord working to coordinate the students' efforts . . . attendance-taking in classes, "interfaith" religious services, and other problems we've written about . . . the happy surprise of seeing a good yearbook on time . . . watching the University grow, slowly but surely . . . living through a year which reflects our age—its frustration, confusion, and groping for changing ideals on- as well as off-campus.

THE HATCHET

To the men at Mercury Press, our gratitude for their patience and helpfulness through the late hours into Tuesday mornings. But our competent, energetic Sub-editorial board and loyal, eager-to-learn staff merit the biggest orchids of all. They faithfully stuck with it for 26 weeks, got along with sometimes-grouchy Editors, and worked in an office equipped with half the number of typewriters it should have and only 14% of the minimum amount of proper reading light.

WE HOPE

For a better Freshman Orientation program; this year's was pretty empty . . . that next year the Council comptroller gets the $50.00 allotted him in the University budget for his thankless job; if he turns out to be half as good as this year's comptroller he certainly will deserve it . . . for more improvement in the registration procedure . . . that convocations will be made occasions to remember . . . that the sports teams will realize their present promise of excellence . . . that AUBIS will win in its fight for free ink . . . for clarification of the meaning of the "no-smoking" signs . . . if the rumors of President Marvin's retirement in four years at the age of 65 are true, that "students' favorite" Dean Koenig will fall heir to his great responsibility . . . that fraternities will foster even more inter-Greek spirit . . . for similar closeness between area universities . . . that you, our readers, who are the most important people connected with the paper, have read this far with a bit of understanding of how The Hatchet has at least tried to live up to its duty as reporter, promoter, and constructive critic of University affairs; and a realization of our sincerity in the attempt.

George & The Beanstalk

Community Of Scholars

• THE NEW University regulations on student dishonesty (full text on page 3) bring several points to mind.

First, the rules could be more stringent. Most obviously equivocal is the final sentence, providing that in case a student is found guilty of dishonesty twice, the appropriate Dean's Council will recommend to the President that he not be readmitted. Why the University should even hesitate at refusing to readmit a student who has done his best to destroy the honor of the school is difficult to understand.

Second, no matter how strict the rules are, they will be completely ineffectual unless they are rigidly enforced by the faculty and administration. Regardless of how many students are suspended by the Dean's Council for cheating, in an earnest attempt to set an example, the effect will be nil if the Council is repeatedly overruled by higher authority.

Third, and perhaps most important, the ultimate success of any attempt to prevent cheating is dependent upon complete cooperation of the student body. Each student has a responsibility to himself, his school, and his classmates to prevent academic dishonesty. The University is "a community of scholars."

Letters To The Editors

Open Letter To Seniors

Dear Fellow Seniors:

With the rapid approach of commencement I would like to take this opportunity and means to wish each and every graduate in the Class of 1950 the very best of luck in all future endeavors. During the past year it has indeed been a pleasure to serve you and work with you and for you as your elected leader.

You are undoubtedly aware of the Insurance Memorial Gift Fund that is being sponsored for the first time by a class at the University.

Because of this new gift plan and the unforeseen cancellation of the junior-senior prom, those seniors who have paid their class dues are entitled to a full refund. The prom was cancelled for fear of a financial loss. Many seniors suggested that they would be unable to attend a prom since that week's activities schedule was so full.

However, the senior officers sincerely hope that the members of the class will be imbued with a deep feeling for the University which will prompt them to leave the dues in a fund to be utilized for a small token for the Student Union for the immediate use of our fellow classmates. We hope that many more students who have not as yet paid class dues will do so in order that this plan might be more readily fulfilled. For those who so desire, refunds will be made in the Student Activities Office between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. each day until the examination period begins.

Again, may I thank you for your support during the past year and assure you that it has been a great pleasure serving you.

Buddy Stein, President Senior Class

Vocal Chords . . .

• WITH PEAR-SHAPED tones, Kappa Alpha took first place in the annual IFC Sing last Tuesday. The trophy-winning songs were "Erie Canal" and "KA Medley." Directing the ensemble was Arch Harrison, who was second-best leader of the evening. The victorious vocalists are (from l. to r.) Phil Coates, Bud Bunting, Danny Norman, Olaf

Art Club Exhibition In Lisner Shows Off Student Paintings

By MARILYN GORSCHMAN

• FINE ART and commercial art are being exhibited in the second annual art show sponsored by the University Art Club. The display is in the Dimock Room of Lisner Auditorium, and will be open today and tomorrow.

The big opening of the show climaxed Friday's May Day festivities. Prior to the All-U opening, the Art Club held a private showing for invited guests which featured, aside from the well-presented show, refreshments and "after dark" piano renditions by Don Wyckoff. Bob Dentz, president of the Art Club, served as chairman of the formal opening, and was assisted by Mary Davis, vice-president; Natalie Farwell, treasurer; Paul Litz, chairman of the hanging committee, and members of Mortar Board who acted as hostesses.

Screening for the show was done by Donald Kline and Morris I. Crandall of the University Art Department. The judges were Eugene Weiz, Corcoran School of Art, and Miss Clair Fontanini, Art Department of Catholic University.

'Oriental God' Wins

The first prize in the "oil classification was awarded to Martha Gasque for her "Oriental God." It is an excellently composed still life of a Buddha god, drapes, and sea shells.

Second prize was awarded to Tim Barnett for his "Man at the Door." It is a fine composition of a portion of a street rendered in red and orange. Contrast is supplied by the cool, green silhouette of a man facing an open doorway. Tim Barnett also was awarded second prize in the water and drawing classification for a well executed charcoal drawing entitled "Hands."

A deserted apartment house development is the theme of the third prize, oil which the artist, Bernard Patten, has called "Second Street Sweep."

'Anna' Best Drawing

In the Water and Drawing classification, Charles Uhl received first prize for a beautifully done charcoal drawing of a girl which he calls "Anna." The drawing is nicely matted and framed demonstrating the aesthetic effect that can be obtained from this medium. A precise drawing of an old man's face done with a soft pencil obtained third place mention by the judges. The drawing was the work of Irving Lyons who has two other works in the show.

Commercial art prizes were given to Pat McNally, first prize, for a loosely effective wash rendering of women's fashions; Maurice Lacey, second prize, for a very precise scratch board drawing of a kitchen; and Dorothy Thompson, third prize.

Other artists represented in the show are: H. Wayne Peterson, W. P. Hurley, Marilyn Gorschman, Thomas Allen, Elinor Gittleman, Winifred Jelling, Rupert Moure, Jo Anne Petruska, Paul Litz, Lorraine Salzberg, Edward Hutmire, Cleo Michelson, June Walton, Robert Davis, Natalie Warwell, Robert Dentz, Jinny Teeter, Tim Evans and Jack Lewis.

Annual On Sale In Supply Store

• COPIES OF the 1950 Cherry Tree are now available to all students. Editor Chet McCall has announced. They can be purchased daily at the Student Supply Store on Colonial Lane, today and tomorrow at the Law School, and in the Student Union lobby through Friday from 12 to 1, and from 5 to 7.

The book costs $3.50 to those students who did not purchase it during advance sales. Those students who have receipts may pick up their book only at the Cherry Tree office, third floor of the Student Union Annex.

Hillel's UJA Drive Brings In $400

• HILLEL'S recent UJA drive contributed over $400 to the national fund. An award was presented to Morty Katz as the individual who collected the most money.

KA's Crooners Capture IFC Sing; 18 Tapped By Leadership Honorary

• KAPPA ALPHA, led by Arch Harrison, won the Interfraternity Sing with their rendition of "Erie Canal" and "Kappa Alpha Medley" last Tuesday night in Lisner Auditorium.

Running second and third were Pi Kappa Alpha and Sigma Nu. PIKA was led by Armand Estes in "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" and "May I Speak My Heart Now." Under the direction of Phil Floyd, Sigma Nu sang "You'll Never Walk Alone" and "Sigma Nu Medley."

The winning directors were announced as William Stallsmith, Kappa Sigma, first; Arch Harrison, Kappa Alpha, second; and Armand Estes, Pi Kappa Alpha, third. Stallsmith and Pat Peterson, Chi Omega, winning director of the Panhellenic Sing, were presented with similar cups donated by Dr. Robert Harmon.

ODK Taps

During the program 18 members were tapped for Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary leadership fraternity. Frank Cullen, ODK president, announced each name and present members gave the new members blue carnations.

The men tapped were judged on five points: scholarship, social and religious activities, athletics, publications, and speech forensic, and drama.

Fifteen regular and three honorary members were tapped. They are Donald Myrick, Chuck Plyer, Tim Evans, Ed Hayes, Frank Cavallo, Hal Hart, John Grinnell, Sam Schrieber, Art Kennedy, Jake Bayer, Edward McGandy, Art Cerra, and Richard Daniels.

Corcoran Artists Exhibit Paintings At Library Now

• THE UNIVERSITY Library is currently exhibiting 27 paintings by three Corcoran artists.

Arvid Hedin, staff member at Corcoran School of Art and member of the Society of Washington Artists, received first prize for painting at the Corcoran in 1943, first prize in the Artists of Washington and Vicinity Exhibition in 1946 at the Corcoran Gallery in 1946.

John Chapman Lewis, also on the staff of the Corcoran, was included in the groups of Young American Painters sponsored by Life Magazine at the Metropolitan Museum this year. Lewis has held one-man shows at the Contemporary Arts, New York City, and the State Art Gallery at Raleigh, North Carolina.

Jessalee Sickman, whose pen and ink sketches have appeared in Forum and Golden Book Magazines, is on the staff of the Corcoran. She received the Alice Barney Prize for Portraiture in 1945.

At Walter Reed

• UNIVERSITY students are invited to an open house at Walter Reed General Hospital on May 16 from 2 to 5 p.m.

Also chosen were: Scotty Fleetwood, Howard Tickin, as regular members; Carl Walther, assistant dean of engineering; Joe Krupa, director of intramural athletics, and Dr. Alexander Wetmore, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution and member of the University Board of Trustees, as honorary members.

Cups were presented to Buddy Stein, treasurer of the Interfraternity Council, by Alpha Epsilon Pi for being the most outstanding IFC delegate and to Sigma Chi for having the best float in the contest before the Southern Conference Basketball Championship.

Carmody M.C.'s

Jay Carmody was master of ceremonies. The judges for the sing were Miss Lucy Lynch, music teacher at Western High School, Mrs. C. Shaw, music teacher at Bethesda-Chevy Chase High School, and Ed Stern, program director of WWDC.

Other contesting groups and their directors were Delta Tau Delta led by Bill Powell; Phi Sigma Kappa, Bill Hines; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Warren Hull; Sigma Chi, Bob Block; Tau Kappa Epsilon, Don Wyckoff; and Kappa Sigma, Stallsmith.

The groups were judged on the Intercollegiate Musical Council system of judging which includes stage deportment, audience appeal, interpretation, and appropriateness of songs and musical technique.

Student Faculty Parley Held In Library Today

• A STUDENT-faculty-administration meeting will be held this afternoon at 2 p.m. in the Trustees Room of the Library. The participating groups will be the Student Council, Student Life Committee, Hatchet Board of Editors, President Cloyd H. Marvin, Dr. Jarman, and selected members of the faculty. John Busick, public relations director, will also attend.

At the last meeting, February 28, three major topics were discussed: the University's admissions procedure, summer sessions, and the lack of the night students' interest in the University facilities.

Hospital Series Here Draws Negro Medics For Grad Study

• FOR THE FIRST time, Negro physicians and surgeons participated this year in the fifth annual Series of Intensive Postgraduate Courses under the auspices of the University Medical School, recently completed at the University Hospital.

Running from February 27 through April 7, the courses included the fields of anesthesiology, pediatrics, internal medicine, surgical physiology, obstetrics and gynecology, and psychiatry.

Their purpose, as stated in the SIPC catalogue, is to afford intensive instruction of "busy physicians who can spare only a short time away from their practices, but who wish information on recent advances in their fields . . . The courses should serve admirably as final preparation before specialty board examination."

Expanding each spring since its beginning in 1946, the SIPC this year was attended by 308 doctors, representing 24 states and the District of Columbia, Canada, and the Philippines. The series is directed by Dr. Thomas M. Peery, of the University Medical School.

Negro Admission Significant

When questioned by The Hatchet as to the significance of admission of Negro doctors to the SIPC, in relation to the University's previously announced long-range plan for a non-discriminatory admissions policy, Dr. Robert E. Bolwell, chairman of the University's Graduate Council, identified the event as "one of the first steps in the solution of our problems."

Dr. Bolwell had told a student-faculty discussion group on February 28 that the University planned steps "toward the near-future solution of the Negro question." This statement was made at a meeting of representatives of the administration, faculty, and student leaders, called to discuss mutual problems.

Scholarships Established

By action of the University Board of Trustees, six scholarships have been established for foreign students wishing to attend the medical series. The scholarships, as well as regular enrollment in SIPC, are made known to doctors throughout the world by advertisements in the leading professional journals, and by direct mail to those located in eastern states, Dr. Peery said.

Originally for returning veterans with "GI Bill" eligibility, the SIPC now accepts non-veterans, and is continuing its expansion as a "spot course" in specialized fields, he added.

Kellogg Foundation Aid

In the past, the series has received financial aid from such organizations as the Kellogg Foundation, but Dr. Peery expressed the group's hope eventually to become self-supporting.

He pointed out that the SIPC is outstanding in the East, since most university postgraduate medical courses are conducted by medical schools west of the Mississippi. Medical associations and similar organizations handle such programs in the middle-Atlantic area, according to Dr. Peery.

Memorandum To Students

• The UNIVERSITY, both faculty and students, constitutes the membership of a community of scholars, having the responsibilities as well as the privileges of that association. Dishonesty of any sort is incompatible with the ideals of such membership. Evidence of dishonesty on the part of any student will result in his suspension from the University upon the recommendation of the appropriate Dean's Council, when reviewed. A student found guilty of dishonesty will be deprived of credit for all courses in the term during which the dishonest act occurs.

Charges against a student accused of dishonesty will be made in writing to the appropriate Dean by the Executive Officer of the Department concerned. The student shall have the right to appear in his own defense.

A student may apply for readmission to the University after the expiration of not less than one calendar year from suspension. Action upon such application will be received by the Dean's Council. The Dean's Council will recommend to the President that a student suspended twice for dishonesty will not be readmitted.

By direction of the President.

The Waste Campus

(With apologies to T. S. Eliot)

I. The Refusal of the Bed

April is the cruellest month, breeding
Finals in May, mixing
Memories of the spring formal—
With desire for an "A." Stirring
Dull students with fear, making
Them study one week a year.

Let us go then you and I
To the student bookshop where we'll buy
Outlines that will tell us all the answers.

The dances are not this week
There are no dances this week
No meetings, discussions, campaigns,
No games, no parties, no sings.
There is not time now for any of those things
(For which you really come to school)
This is the week for fear
Call them out of Brownly's drinking beer
Mein Studenten—Exams are here!

Geben, nahmen, nahmen, geben.
Und dein Hair unspielt der wind.

Unreal Campus,
Under the hot sun of a spring day,
Under the smell of construction in the street,
Covered with students who refuse to go to bed,
Trying to pack some knowledge in their head,
Living on coffee. Fear death by benzadrene.

Scott Seminars, famous knowledge distillers,
Will teach you all, for only $3
(Pay in advance please)
There you will find the psychology major
And Belle Caffein, the Queen of the campus,
And Harry, whom we voted man most likely to succeed
(Of course, he doesn't yet know how to read)
Harry, cramming with all his might (It's kind of hard when you don't know how to write.)
Oh keep close by the College Outline that's friend to student.

II. The Game of Guess
Because we do not wish to flunk again
Because we do not wish
Because we do not wish to flunk
The prof sat in his office chair, like one enthroned
"I'm sorry," he said
To Belle Caffein, the campus Queen,
"You'll have to take the exam as scheduled,
You can not have more time because you were in the contest,
You should have thought of that before."

In McKee's the students come and go
Trying to find out what they do not know.

And in front of Strong Hall at midnight,
They are mawkishly kissing goodnight,

Social Study Organization Initiates 40

PI GAMMA MU, national social science honorary, initiated 38 students and two faculty members in ceremonies at the New Athens Restaurant last Saturday night. Following a banquet and after-dinner speeches, officers for next year were elected.

To be eligible for membership undergraduates must have a 3.00 overall average and a 3.5 average in a minimum of 20 hours of social studies which include history, political science, economics, sociology, geography, and related or combined fields. Graduate students may be recommended by professors in their field of study.

Faculty members inducted were John L. Freeman and William Withington, while students initiated include Grace Baisinger, Beverly Barrett, Maurice Baruch, Joseph Brooks, Ann Carter, Eugene Corbets, Jeanette Fitzwilliams, Samuel Freedman, and Irving Goldberg.

Also, Martha Guilford, M. J. Hekimian, Leo Horvath, Clark Joel, Julius Katz, Charles Lillen, Carlington McGraw, Isabelle Mikus, Clarence Moren, Jacob Myerson, Harry McPhillimy, Ingolf Otto, Richard Olson, Marie Paner, and William Phelps.

Also, Richard Randall, James Scholfield, Thomas Singer, Jean-Louis Solal, James Spirides, William Stelck, Sara Trimble, Edith Venezky, Charles Weasner, Douglas Weaver, Margaret Williams, Orme Wilson, Edison Zayas, and William Zimmerman.

Officers elected are William Stelck, president; Jeanette Fitzwilliams, vice-president; and Edith Venezky, secretary.

Dr. George Churchill, professor emeritus of English history, and Dr. John Brewer, governor of the District of Columbia province of the society, addressed the group. Jerry Wagshal, this year's president, conducted the initiation.

Vets' Education Must Be Begun By July, 1951

THE VETERANS Administration recently announced regulations which require veterans, attending school under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act, to begin their education no later than July, 1951, and to complete it by July, 1956.

In general, the provisions state 1) that the veteran must initiate a course of education before the termination of four years after the date of discharge or by July 25, 1951, whichever is the later, and 2) that a course of education must be completed by July 25, 1956.

The regulations also state 3) that a veteran shall pursue his course of education continuously until completion except for conditions which normally would cause interruption by any student (normal vacation periods); and 4) that a veteran may change his course of education only while in training and then only for reasons satisfactory to the Veterans Administration.

For further information concerning these regulations, veterans are advised to inquire at the Office of Veterans Education, Building Q, 2029 H Street, N.W. or the Regional Office of the Veterans Administration, 1825 H Street, N.W.

IT SAYS HERE:

Dottie Schram, ChiO, pinned to Bill Hines, Phi Sig... Perry Kan, AEPI, and Julia Lee Yager will September 6... Buddy Stein, AEPI, and Juliet Markwood are pinned... Teddy Bialek, AEPI, and Louise Osbold "I Do" June 18... Ed Garo, Theta Delta, and Dot Downey, KD, have set the day: May 27... Marion Bender and Herman Paikowsky are formally pinned after 7 months of companionship.

BUT OH WHAT IT SEEMED TO BE:

Foggy, another year has gone by. You can look forward to greater things next year, but have you stopped to think that many of those terrific people who have helped to fill up space in our column won't be around next year. Yes, with joys of college life comes the unconscious feeling that it's all over—it's job hunting, worries and money in the bank for them. I wonder what the boys will wonder about months from now when they find themselves married to the girl they met at one of the exchanges? It must be a horrible feeling to know that you have a steady date, steady income of money, and a weekend already planned. They will probably take off some Saturday night, sit down in front of the fireplace with the dog in their lap, book at their feet, and pipe in their mouth, and start going over the days they spent in old Foggy Bottom. And I bet the first flash that will come to their mind will be Brownly's and a worry—will they be able to take that last beer and make the twelve o'clock jump at Strong. And some of them will no doubt smile when they think of those nights along the Tidal Basin or Hains Point when they started out to see the Cherry Blossoms and ended up by losing the pin they had so long worked for. Some of the less romantic ones didn't think of places like that and I wonder if they knew what they were doing when they offered their pin or ring across the table from a cup of coffee at Polly's and Arthur's or maybe our own SUB. I can see it now. Memories just pouring in.

LET LOVE COME LAST!

Their first exam—then maybe their first blind date. The boys looking for a combination of Betty Grable, Clara Booth Luce, and the heiress of the Woolworth's millions. The girls hoping that the knight in white armor will have a horse that lets it top down at the touch of a button, the looks that made Van Johnson famous, and the personality that set Dale Carnegie on the right path. The surprise that both of them received when one of their friends introduced them. Their dreams were shattered but these days we must make the best of everything... whoever thought that the lovely package in red with smeared make-up would end up walking down that aisle with not-so-handsome but witty Colonial two years later.

TIME WAS:

And the years wandered by. This is 1950 and the sheepskin is beckoning to them (some would rather have every sheep keep his own skin). One more fling at Ocean City—parties, no worries about exams, miles and miles of comfortable sand to kick around in, Jackson's by the night (maybe 'til morn). Homecoming was terrific—you didn't know what color dress she would wear but an orchid looks good on anybody... the music was tops even if you did tear her new gown (now she knew she just had to have a new one for the Christmas formal)—and the Christmas formal did arrive—instead of the regular "I've Been Working on the Railroad," it was different to hear a few carols... During the Christmas vacation you thought you'd shoot the money you made in the post office, so you took in Michele's (violins and alcohol preserve everything but secrets), so you ended up being pinned... and then came finals—no pinnings, engagements, or marriages: just benzadrene. Greek Week showed up as usual and the IFC Formal was it—you had a fight but got over it (No, you never fight—tch, tch)... but it was great going from house to house smelling the perfume of Moose Milk and singing White Star of Sigma Nu, with SAE upon it to the tune of "Dixie." Yes, the school year was coming to an end and with it "For it's not for knowledge that you came to college" became an absurd fact when the President himself gave you a oneway ticket not to return again.

SCHOOL DAYS, SCHOOL DAYS:

Memories are fading. So many things you did and you can't recall them all. Well, you have a lifetime to remember. Ye Old Cherry Tree will serve the purpose. Maybe you'll come back to see the remnants of those you loved so well and be introduced to the new pledges. Make sure you tell them that yours is the greatest of all the Greeks. Your old class-cutting buddy will show up: Hey, how's about a beer at Brownly's—I'll pay for the first round...

Kirsten Comments

By LEN KIRSTEN

• SOUND AND FURY. While our beloved Student Council President Charlie Crichton was on the stage at Lisner Friday night coming up the May Day program and pushing his own campaign for president of the Interfraternity Council, he glibly described the Who's Who Certificate as an "impressive-looking document full of sound and fury, signifying nothing," to borrow a phrase. I must take issue with that. If Crichton believes they "signify nothing," he shouldn't have served on the committee which chose the nominations for the honor. Inclusion in Who's Who is a symbol, as is May Queen or the ODK plaque or the Student Council Certificates of Appreciation. After a student has been around the University in extra-curricular activities for two years or more, he starts to wonder if anybody ever notices that he's knocking himself out to get things done for the good old Basket Weaving Club. Then, all of a sudden he (or she) gets one of these "symbols" like Who's Who and the recognition makes all the difference in the world. It signifies a lot to someone who receives one.

• FLASHBACK. At the risk of becoming a bit sentimental in this last space in this sheet, I am going to take a peripatetic backward glance at life in the University since the fall of 1946.

There was the election when one of the coalitions stole all of the available Hatchets which listed the candidates' photos and qualifications. The tremendous bonfire built behind Government which was blazing rather well when the fire department hosed it out. The Hatchet feud which manifested itself in a series of written messages on the wall from the second floor down to the first in the old Hatchet building. Lambert Joel's Van Dyke beard. The time Phi Sigma Sigma sorority almost broke up a Pannel Sing with a jazzed-up version of a song-and-dance number. Some of the other gals thought it was puffily off, but the audience thought it was great. Larry Strickland's string of organization keys. One year-book looks like his biography in pictures. The pal to all of the students Mrs. Mildred Farrar was.

This I Remember

The Bill Cantwell affair. It was about noon one Saturday and we had to have about 100 signatures on a petition in an hour. We dashed out and came back in time with about 250. Speaking of politics, remember Sue Richards, Bob Klein, Jim Van Story, Stan Kaiser, Chet Burns, Dwight Worden, and the daddy of them all, W. H. Johnson. The first time I met John Ford, campus literary dictator. I thought he was a malnutrition case from the Biology Lab. The old Buff and Blue affairs in the Student Club. The "warmth and charm" of the redhead behind the cigar counter at Quig's. The smell of the gym at 9 a.m. The way the vets made deals to substitute a leather zipper notebook for two looseleaf binders on GI requisitions. Diane Roosevelt waiting tables at Arthur's. The two-block-long book lines of 1946. The farce which was the Hatchet investigation. One righteous witness, swinging a big red smear brush, pointed out that there were three editors of the Hatchet—three—exactly the same number as in a Communist cell.

Publication Nostalgia

The slick, expensive booklet, "A University in the Nation's Capital," featuring glossy color shots of the Yard which made it look like a mile square. It was a good pamphlet in general, except for such manufactured folk legends as, "Students say studying under the Big Sycamore tree (in the Yard) brings good luck on examinations." Never heard a student say that. The friendly hello you always get from Polly and Arthur. The election ISA pushed and won. The bronze turtle, "Testudo," which was kidnapped from Maryland University and hidden in a frat basement for sometime. The gang of people who buy their lunches in Gus' delicatessen and carry it into the Union Cafeteria to eat. The parade of publications since 1946—The Surveyor, Mail Call (newspaper and magazine), The Grind, The Colonial Review, and Mecheleclv. Only two survived. The University's tenacity in referring to its supply store as the Student Co-Op when it really isn't. The handbook on whose cover the editor's name was in type just a little larger than the name of the handbook. Etc., Etc.

The guy who told me he wasn't sure if he would run for Student Council. Said he wanted to add up his points for ODK first and see if he needed the position to get in. Dr. Ragatz's marriage to his student assistant. The friendliest faculty in the University—the Speech Department. Ray Glasscock's cocktail parties (I was never invited). Frank Simmons' one-man promotion of the Raphael Sabatini concert which flopped. Gerry Lieblch, Raker, the University's answer to Carol Channing. The poetry by Maryjo Suvercup and Jane Summers. Skip Foster enthusiastically explaining pop music. Ingrid Bergman at Lisner in "Joan of Arc." The hot summer day when the plaster fell in on a class in Law School. John Donaldson as a cub reporter on the Hatchet. Kayser's history classes in Lisner. The leather furniture and ashtrays that used to be in the smoking room, first floor of the Library. Professor Sam Munson's biology field trips under Key Bridge. The 1948 football game with Georgetown when we beat them for the first time in the history of the series. And so on.

Soviets Overthrow Boosters In Furious Rock Creek Battle

• THE UNION of Soviet Socialist Republics issued a challenge to our very own Colonial Boosters in what has become the latest slant on the cold war.

Boosters met the challenge last Sunday and lost.

The international incident occurred deep in barren Rock Creek Park—a no-man's land on weekends—when an unofficial Soviet delegation approached the American group.

Boosters was frolicking in the grass while on its big athletes' picnic. About 150 persons attended and witnessed the Booster-Soviet feints.

The Booster-Soviet action was essentially an old three hour credit course given phys ed majors—volley ball.

The Russians, an Embassy aggregation found weekly on the Rock Creek courts, challenged the University group through an interpreter.

Action resulted in a series of three games, all going to the Russians by substantial scores.

The defeats were especially embarrassing to the University. For various faculty members, campus leaders and athletes—John Grinnell, Frank Cavallo, Sam Schreiber, Jack Tivnan, Joe Krupa, Dwight Worden, Ray Hanken, and others—made up the teams.

May Day

The Mortar Board award to the woman student of the sophomore class having a scholarship average of 3.00 or higher and an outstanding activity record was given to Jeanne Cleary.

The Omicron Delta Kappa prize to the male member of the senior class of Columbian College who throughout his course has done the most constructive work in the furtherance and upholding of the University student activities was given to Chet McCall.

Louise Odineal won the Pi Beta Phi prize for the senior woman.

The Intramural Outstanding Individual Achievement award was presented to Bob Evans. The Women's Recreation Association award was given to Jean Tully.

The Publications Committee announced that Tim Evans will serve as editor of the Cherry Tree with Frank Antonello as Business Manager, Janet Wildman as Managing Editor, and Tom Israel and Diane Farrell as associate editors.

Council Elections

into confusion. Kirsch stated a candidate was to be disqualified for failing to enter an expense account. He also announced 101 ballots taken at the Medical school were voided. Twelve others were voided on suspicion of fraud.

Kirsch later explained: 1. The disqualification of a candidate was merely a rumor started by himself.

2. Medical students voted, but all failed to give identification. All medical votes were thrown out.

3. Twelve neatly folded and identically-marked ballots found at the bottom of a ballot box were thrown out. Kirsch revealed that even if the voided ballots were counted, none of the losing candidates would have had enough votes to win.

The parties divided the number of posts almost equally between them. Five posts went to United Colonial aspirants. Two party men and all three endorsees of the SA group took other offices.

For the United Colonials Lindner and Mutchler; Richard Riecken, activities director; Jake Bayer, advocate; and Gene Witkin, member at large, all took positions.

The two Students' Alliance winners were Skelly and Robert Lesser, program director. Successful endorsees included Jody Hastings, freshman director; Warren Hull, unopposed publicity director; and Mutchler.

Maxine Sowards copped the secretary post, beating Louanne Hoffheins who stood for the four-year grasp held on that office by Chi Omega.

Total votes numbered 1,822. But with 113 voided ballots, the total valid votes came to 1,709.

President—Tad Lindner, 917; John Graves, 739.

Vice-president—Jack Skelly, 867; Frank O'Brien, 751.

Secretary—Maxine Sowards (unaffiliated), 786; Louanne Hoffheins, (unaffiliated), 751.

Advocate—Jake Bayer, 814; Tim Shank, 725.

Activities director—Richard Riecken, 785; Lew Cassidy, 506; Romana Samples (unaffiliated), 268.

Freshman director—Jody Hastings (unaffiliated), 927; John Lytle, 390; Bette Hammonds (unaffiliated), 268.

Program director—Bob Lesser, 956; Paul Sifton, 620.

Member at large—Gene Witkin, 954; John Sestokas, 603.

Student Union Board chairman—Tom Mutchler, 785; Walter Borowski (unaffiliated), 730.

Publicity director—Warren Hull, 1,149.

The End

Bull Board—

• "ETERNAL CITY," a color film on Rome and other points of interest in Italy, will be shown tomorrow night at the meeting of the newly-organized Circulo Culturale. The meeting will be at 8 p.m. in D-200.

With this presentation, the group initiates what it hopes will be a long series of widely-varied cultural programs. The members urge students who are interested in this type of program to attend.

• A REGISTRY of students for stage crew work during student programs in Lisner Auditorium is being established at the Personnel Office, 724 22nd Street, N.W., for the coming academic year, 1950-51.

Although experience is not necessary for many "behind the scenes" jobs, students having some experience will be offered. The Dance Workshop is open to all students of the University. Those interested students can get more information in Building J.

• THE RELIGIOUS Philosophy Club will meet tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. to hear John W. Boardaleo, professor of religion at the University, discuss "Social Factors Confronting Religions." Officers for the next year will be elected at this meeting. As usual, the meeting will be held in Hillel House, 2129 F Street, N.W. Refreshments will be served.

• DANCE PRODUCTION Group officers elected for the coming year are: Claudia Chapline, overall business manager; Lois Elliott, manager of Group II; Frances Haynes, press-publicity manager, with Frances Oerlein as her assistant; Dorothy Lee, art publicity manager, with Betty Gertsch as her assistant; Janice Williams, costume designer.

Also, Nancy Norment, costume manager; Maria Checchia, her assistant; Nancy Feyrer, make-up manager; Patricia Weaver, promotion manager; Gloria Kaye, property manager; Tom Pence and Joan Higginson, folk and square dance managers, and Myrtle Lanckton, head hostess for folk and square dances.

• THE FINAL Players meeting of the semester will be held tonight in Studio A of Lisner Auditorium at 8:30. Plans for the picnic May 28 will be discussed.

Anyone interested in going to the picnic may buy a ticket from Sybil Grayson for $1.

• SAILING ASSOCIATION meeting is scheduled for Thursday night, 8:15, in the Conference Room, Student Union Office Building. Every member is urged to attend since elections for Summer Semester officers will be held.

Chapel Services

• JAMES WATT, manager of the Washington office of Christian Science Committee on Publications, will speak at Chapel service, Friday 12:10 p.m. This will be the last of the fall and winter chapel services, but informal chapel services will be held during the summer session.

The Religious Council invites all students to attend the Chapel which is held at 1906 H Street, N.W. A cost lunch is served immediately after the service.

Warwick May Get $150,000 Donation

• THE WARWICK Memorial Cancer Clinic of the University may receive from $75,000 to $150,000 for a new clinic at Washington Circle if the present list of approved allocations is acted on by the House.

A House Appropriations Committee is slated to make $336,981 available to private hospitals out of a $75 million appropriation.

The Hospital Advisory Council said it considered waiting until after Congress made appropriations before making its recommendations to the Commissioners.

Hatchet Wins 'All-American' Award From Associated Collegiate Press

● THE UNIVERSITY Hatchet has again received the topmost award of "All-American" from the Newspaper Critical Service of the Associated Collegiate Press.

In the rating, which covered the issues of the Fall semester (October through January), The Hatchet earned 970 out of a possible 1055 points. Only six weekly college papers in the nation with enrollment over 5,000 received the "All-American" award.

A consistent winner of this award for over 15 years, The Hatchet received a rating of excellent in all phases of news reporting and writing, sports, editorials, and feature columns.

The Hatchet rating for the Spring semester (February through March) will not be received until this summer.

Editors Named Later

● ANNOUNCEMENT of next year's Hatchet Board of Editors has been delayed until President Marvin and the Board of Trustees consider the selections made by the Committee on Publications. In previous years the announcement has been made about May 1. The delay has been attributed to disagreement over the various names submitted.

Press Agents Fete Students, Give Tips

● APPROXIMATELY 50 University public relation students attended a luncheon given by National Capitol Forge, local branch of the American Public Relations Association, in Lee House yesterday.

The joint meeting of students and professors celebrated the public relations work which was started this year for the first time at the University.

Speaking of the student guests, Daniel Koplick, national executive secretary of APRA, said, "These are the people whose interest and enthusiasm guarantees that the public relation profession will continue to grow in stature, imagination and standards of excellence."

Professor Elbridge Colby thanked the members of the Forge for their "interest, courtesy, and help." He announced that a Public Relations and University Advertising Club had been formed and that faculty studies were underway for expansion of instruction in public relation techniques.

Professor Stone Reviews 'Hamlet' For Lit Club

● DR. GEORGE W. Stone, professor of English literature, will address the Literary Club on "Hamlet the Play," tomorrow night at 8:15 in Columbian House.

Recently awarded a Guggenheim fellowship, Dr. Stone will leave this summer for England to continue work on his "History of London Dramatic Performances."

Last week Dr. E. E. Willoughby of the Folger Shakespeare Library spoke on "The King James Bible—the Making of a Best-Seller." Dr. Willoughby's talk presented a history of biblical translations into English with information about such volumes as the Geneva Bible, the Bishop's Bible, the Matthew's Bible and many others. A second edition of the King James Bible was displayed to the members.

After the meeting, election of officers was held. Officers for next year are Charles Yuill, president; C. G. Tennyson, vice-president, and Joanne Fenton, secretary.

III. The Dire Sermom

And indeed will there be time,
To prepare a face to meet the prof,
To cram into our heads the facts we have to know?
We should have been sociology majors
They don't have to read as much.
The day before the finals, the campus is deserted:
Arthur is empty
McKee's is empty
Quickley is empty
Campus Grill is empty
Student Union is empty
Pin ball machines are silent
Nothing, nothing moves on the Campus
Except Len Kirsten looking for a cause

Outside the prof's office we sit down and memorize

A tall man with tired eyes,
Perceive it all,
I who have seen it as a Freshman and Sophomore,

Know the campus as it has been and shall be,
And I can see so many,
I see that they will flunk so many)

O my studenten, what have they done to thee

Or is it your own fault,

Going to dances before mid-terms, swing sessions before seminars,

THE SWEETS CO. OF AMERICA, INC. - HOBOKEN, N. J.

Granger, Dugoff, Famulatte To Get Honors At Banquet

• SWEATERS AND AWARDS will be presented to 121 varsity and freshman athletes of George Washington University when the Colonials, Inc., an alumni booster group, holds its Annual Monogram Banquet at the National Press Club on Friday night.

Ceeds Pat Granger and Jeanne Davis of the University sailing team also have earned varsity letter sweaters but will appear at the all-male banquet only long enough to receive their trophies. One of the finest skippers in national inter-collegiate circles, Miss Granger has been the sparkplug of Colonial sailors for four straight years, paving the way to victories over such highly-touted schools as Navy, M. I. T., Brown, Pennsylvania, Dartmouth, Princeton, Lehigh, Syracuse, and others during her tour at the helm of University-owned Tempests. Miss Davis shared scoring honors with Pat in several meets this year.

DuGoff Takes Two

Individual awards will be made to three senior athletes for their valuable athletic contributions and sportsmanlike conduct during the past academic year. For the first time in the school's history, both football awards have been won by the same individual, Fullback Al DuGoff.

Recently signed by the Washington Redskins because of his outstanding running performances with the Colonials last season, DuGoff has been chosen by his teammates to receive the Tuffy Leemans' Trophy, presented each spring to the most valuable varsity gridder, plus the Colonials, Inc. Most Valuable Football Player Award.

Forward Art Cerra, who overcame a serious year-long illness to return to varsity basketball competition last season, has been selected by his teammates as the recipient of the Colonials' Most Valuable Basketball Player Award.

Had Streak

The Vincent J. DeAngelis Baseball Trophy, newest of the Colonial trophies, will be presented to Joe Famulatte for his outstanding play at third base during the 1949 season. Besides flawless fielding, Famulatte hit safely in all but one baseball contest during 1949.

Donald S. Denison, LL.B '38, administrative assistant to President Truman and a former athlete at the University of Missouri, will be guest speaker. Special guests will include Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin, President of the University, members of the Board of Trustees, deans and administrative heads and members of the press and radio.

Tennis Squad Loses

• THE GEORGE Washington tennis squad lost to Maryland University yesterday, 7-2, at the Maryland courts. Winners for the Buff included Nick Smith in the singles, and George Kriner and Howard Leggum in the doubles. The team's record now stands at four wins and five defeats.

Coach Bill Shreve's crew boasted a 4-4 record going into yesterday's match, the most recent win coming over West Virginia last week by an 8-1 measure. All hands came through with the exception of No. 1 man Nick Smith, who was defeated.

Buff Nine Tackle Hoyas; Season End Loop Chances Doubtful Brings 2nd To Sailors

• GEORGE WASHINGTON'S baseball squad will take on Georgetown this afternoon on the Hoyas' field. The Buff and Blue concluded their conference play for the year by dropping ball games last week to Maryland, 2-0, and to North Carolina, 8-5.

Today's game with Georgetown may be the only meeting between the crosstown rivals this season since an earlier tilt was rained out and may not be rescheduled. Georgetown presents heavy hitting in the person of Frank Alagia and effective pitching in the arm of Bob Mattingly. T formation quarterback for the Blue and Gray football aggregation. The city championship is all in a scramble since George Washington and Maryland split two games this season.

Meet Navy

This leaves the Buff and Blue with only three more games before the season concludes: Quantico on May 12, Virginia at Griffith Stadium on May 13, and Navy at Annapolis on May 20. Since none of those are Southern Conference battles, the Colonials wound up with a 6-4 conference record which is probably not enough to beat out VPI for loop honors.

ture. Famulatte, suffering a ligament injury, had to leave the game. Becraft left the game for a pinch hitter in the sixth and Joe Kennelly held the Terps hitless for the rest of the afternoon, but George Washington's bats were also to remain silent.

No Support

Against North Carolina at Alexandria's Municipal Stadium, Kennelly received somewhat less support than his cohorts had given him at Maryland. The Tar Heels scored three runs in the first inning, one in the third, and four in the fourth to set up a lead that the Buffmen were unable to overcome. The run production of the visitors was not entirely the responsibility of Kennelly, for the backing up was anything but sound. The • BUFF SAILORS took a close second place in the Middle Atlantic Championship Regatta held at Annapolis Saturday and Sunday. The Merchant Marine Academy team from Kings Point, Long Island, who won the Championship last year, took the America Trophy home with them for still another year.

Kings Point won the regatta with a total of 122 points; the University was a close second with 117 points. Princeton placed third with 109, and Navy fourth with 105. These close scores were followed by Army with 77 points; Webb, 66; Stevens, 64, and Cooper Union, 54.

Jeanne Davis and Elizabeth Durman, were the University light-weather crews; Bob Adams and Steve Falk crewed for the University in the heavy weather.

Intramural Awards Night Slated At Welling Hall

By WARREN GOULD

• AFTER ANOTHER year of hectic sports activity, the Colonial Intramural Sports Department will bring its year to a close Thursday night at Welling Hall with the annual "Awards Night." This annual fracas affords the department a chance to unload a trunkful of cups, plaques, and medals on the outstanding teams and athletes on campus.

This year, as in the past, intramurals have provided a diversified program, one which has given every student, no matter what his athletic interests, a chance to participate. Also, as in the past, this extensive program has been capably headed by Mr. Joe Krupa, and conscientiously and tirelessly carried out by Buddy Stein.

Welling Hall's Ramblers will not have to go far to receive the cup for All-University Honors. This award is made to the University athletic organization which has been outstanding. The Ramblers have unquestionably earned the award. Looking at the complete Colonial hitting and fielding took the week off last week, and Buff pitching could not carry on alone so that the George Washington nine lost two "must" ball games to Maryland and North Carolina. Playing as the home team at the Terp's diamond, the Colonials sent Bones Becraft against "doghouse dweller" Nick Panella of Maryland with the Old Liners coming out on top by 2-0. Bones pitched a five hitter to equal his previous effort against Maryland, but "Boots" emerged from the doghouse built for him by Terp coach Shipley long enough to twirl a four-hit game against the Buff.

Chet Errors

Maryland scored both runs in one spurt of offensive strength. After one Terp got on base by an error by Chet Pietras, this Marylander worked his way around to third base. He scored when the Colonial outfield threw in to third base instead of home after a short fly out to left. Another outfield blow, this time for a hit, scored a Marylander who had been walked by Becraft.

The Colonials could not seem to muster enough blows together to get Panella, whom George Washington had defeated last season. The lameness of Joe Famulatte did not help the power side of the Buff pic-

Member-At-Large Witkin Takes Up Hoop Injuries

By GENE WITKIN

IT LOOKS AS IF Coach Bill Reinhart will have to call an end to spring basketball practice. In the past three weeks there has been a wave of leg injuries sustained by the boys. Injuries of this sort are very common in the early days of practice. They are fortunate in having them occur now rather than later in the season.

The most common type of injury is a sprained ankle. Sudden stops, turns or poor landings when retrieving can twist ankles badly. The next and most serious affliction is cartilage trouble of the knee. Taping a knee is out of the question so the next best remedy for this is bracing. Too many ballplayers, who are hampered by wearing braces, have had their speed cut considerably because of it. Once injured, a ball player tends to favor his injury and his game is affected as a result.

The reason for spring practice is to give the coach an indication of what material is available. He must have this in order to work up combinations for the coming season. The boys, aware of this, play their best so as to impress him. This over-eagerness and strong determination too often leads to avoidable injuries.

Those recently afflicted by these pre-season injuries are Ace Adler, Ken Kern, Tex Silverman, Dave Burke and Bud Goglin. None of the injuries were serious and the boys will return shortly to the tin tabernacle for workouts.

results of the intramural year we find it difficult to find a sport in which the Ramblers have not at least placed. Making use mostly of the athletes which reside at Wellington, the Ramblers have dominated the Independent League in virtually every sport. Football was their first conquest as they took the Independent crown and second in the All-U standings when they lost to Theta Delta Chi. The same situation occurred in basketball; champs in independent activity and runners-up in the whole works.

In track they took the crown as they did in wrestling. Interspersed between these two sports were: third in foulshooting and second in volleyball, to mention a couple.

The All-Fraternity Cup goes this year to Theta Delta Chi Fraternity. As usual the race for the coveted trophy was close all the way. In order to win an organization requires tremendous versatility in sports. TDX met the requirement.

The interfraternity touchfootball crown was their first acquisition and was an indication that the Deltas were going to be tough in the future. This was borne out when TDX garnered a second in basketball, first in foulshooting, third in track, and first in volleyball.

From the many participants in intramural sports, Bob Evans, Sigma Chi, enjoys the distinction of having been chosen to receive the award as the outstanding individual of the sports year, and rightly so. Evan's limitations are not easily found, for few are the Sigma Chi teams on which he did not appear. Small as athletes go, he more than compensates for lack of size with native ability.

An athletic set-up such as the Colonial's have could not effectively function without competent officiating. Needless to say, good officials are few and far between, but this year 'mural teams were fortunate in having phys. ed. major Tony Caruso doing most of the whistle-toting. In a job such as this where a decision one way or another may Competing in the events will be George Washington, Georgetown, Wilson Teachers College, and American University. There will be three singles matches and two doubles matches.

Representing the Buff and Blue will be Hi Kit Lee, Bob Gordon, Paul Neal, and Jim Simpson.

In extramural volleyball, George Washington lost to Maryland in the opening rounds. The scores were 15-10 and 17-15.

'Red' Sees Sox Rise Near Top

By RED GARRISON

• WITH DETROIT setting a fast pace, ending up the third week of the current American League campaign still on top, with a 9-4 record, the big news of the baseball world is the fast rise of the Boston Red Sox.

Absorbing tremendous and disheartening beatings in the first six or so games at the hands of the New York Yankees, the Philadelphia Athletics, and even the lowly Nats of Washington, the Red Sox seemed locked in the coils of a first-class slump. It began to look as if said slump was more or less permanent and that the powerladen Sox were doomed, in the words of the inimitable Red Smith, to "spend another Fourth of July at the bottom of the elevator shaft."

God & The White Sox

But, lo! (not to say behold!), when things were at their darkest, with Boston separated from last place only by the grace of God and the sustained losing powers of the Chicago White Sox, things started happening. To wit: Williams and Stevens started hitting, McDermott and Parnell started pitching, all was sweetness and light—and the Bostons found themselves the holders of a seven game winning streak, separated from the Tigers by one game and 42 percentage points.

It should be pointed out, however, that this inspiring renaissance has been achieved against the weakest teams in the league: St. Louis, Cleveland, Chicago and Philadelphia. Further, the Red Sox, notorious for an inability to win consistently away from the confines of friendly Fenway Park, have yet to be tested on the road.

Red Sox A Pushover

Nor have the Sox, as yet, overcome still another weakness—that of being a pushover for the Yankees and Athletics. Until these questions are settled, the Boston threat to the supremacy of the Tigers and Yankees is but a temporary thing.

While Boston has been making its bid, the Detroit Tigers have been rolling along, retaining possession of the league lead with ease. The acquisition of Gerry Priddy, star second baseman, from the Browns, has proved to be a wise move, to the surprise of no one. The man has been hustling at the bag, making impossible stops, setting up all-important double plays, and infecting the entire team with a fiery determination to win ball games and stay on top.

Fancy fielding and timely hitting, with good pitching from Houtteman and Gray, as well as superb relieving on the part of Diz Trout and Paul Calvert have made up for the absence of Newhouse and the weakness of some other starting pitchers, notably Virgil Trucks.

But the Tigers, too, have gained their victories at the hands of the weaker teams. There has been sloppy play and sloppy pitching; and these are not the attributes of a pennant winner. A lot more will be known of the relative merits of the co-favorites of the season when the Tigers face, consecutively, the Yanks and Boston, in their own respective ballparks, this week.

'Crooshul' Series

Should the Detroiters emerge from these "crooshul" series with their lead intact, their prospects will be greatly enhanced; and should they not, nothing short of complete routs will count them completely out of the race.

One thing, however, is apparent: With the Yankees still whipping all comers and with the Red Sox making good on their advance notices, there is every reason to expect a real pennant race down to the wire, with plenty of thrills and spills.

Surprises of the week: the Chicago White Sox handed the Yankees a 15-0 lacing. And Washington is still in the first division.

Sailing

nials will sail against two of the top skippers in the East, since both leading Kings Point skippers, Red Smith and Jim Fegley, will graduate in June. Navy also graduates one of its outstanding sailors, Chuck Robertson, but the Buff sailors will meet him again this weekend in the Greater Washington Championship Regatta.

Red Smith, Kings Point, led his team to victory with six firsts of the eight "B" division races sailed. His total score of 71 points also gave him the honor of being high point skipper of "B" division and of the entire regatta. Next in line for individual honors in "B" division was Bob Harwood, University team captain, with a total of 59 points, followed by Princeton's Tim Barclay with 56 points.

George Collins, University "A" division skipper, scored 60 points to take top honors in "A" division; he was also second high point skipper of the regatta. Princeton's Johnny Brown was second in this division with a total of 53 points, followed closely by Kings Point's Jim Fegley who scored 51.

The first four schools' close scores indicate their excellent sailing and the tenseness that prevailed throughout the regatta. This fighting spirit was further intensified by the weatherman's tricks. Saturday's races were interrupted by a sudden squall with winds so strong that several of the aluminum masts were bent in S curves.

Next week the University will be host to the area teams who will compete for the Greater Washington Championship. The Maryland University team won last year's championship regatta and they are eager to repeat their fine performance. Maryland, Navy, Georgetown and St. John's are all anxious to defeat the University team after suffering so many defeats from them this season.

Altogether, this promises to be a most interesting regatta with keen competition for the Area Championship title. All persons interested in sailing are cordially invited to come down to Buzzards Point Boat Yard, 1st and V Streets, S. W., to cheer the Colonial team on to victory in this last regatta of the Spring season.

strange atmosphere of Alexandria's dirt infield did not help either squad and George Washington seemed to have less luck.

McGinn Wild

As far as scoring runs themselves was concerned, the Buff and Blue used the wildness of Tar Heel pitcher Bill McGinn to their own benefit. McGinn was finally relieved after he had walked in a couple of runs, and John Vitasek held the Buff in tow until the last inning. In this ninth frame, George Washington pushed across two runs, but the attack folded when pinch hitter Famulatte struck out to end the contest.

The Buff used Tim Shanks and Ed Hughes after Kennelly retired in the fourth. Lou Ciarrocca contributed a booming triple for the only extra base hit for the Colonials.

Major Nathan Adams, Auburn '40 Personnel Manager, U.S. Air Force

Following a three month course, Lt. Adams decided the Air Force was the place for him. He applied for pilot training, was accepted, proceeded to Maxwell Field.

He won his wings and reported to the 36th Fighter Group in Puerto Rico. The group soon returned to the States, giving Adams a chance to marry his college sweetheart.

Within months Adams was overseas, flying "rhubarbs" (missions against enemy transport). He flew 63 P-47 missions within seven months, returned to the States late in 1944 for rest and recuperation.

V-J Day came, and Adams decided to make the service a career. He chose personnel work as his career field, was assigned for training to the Adjutant General's School at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia.

Now a regular Air Force Major, he heads a 32-man section at Bolling Air Force Base. He advises his Commanding Officer on selection, assignment and promotion of all officers and airmen in the command.
